ANGIE BROKS — UN'S MADAME PRESIDENT
On the banks of New York's East River, where Brooklyn faces mankind's fading hope for peace, debate had been brisk in the international clubhouse called the United Nations. Behind the low, gracefully curved facade of the Assembly Building, a meeting of the important General Committee had bogged down in quibbling over aircraft hijacking. For some time, discussion dragged on until the presiding official, a regal black woman in turban and billowing grand bubba, suddenly maneuvered the debate to a conclusion and recessed the meeting for lunch. As she strode from the room with the confident majesty of a queen, a lone woman among men, she was approached by a colleague who complimented her on the finesse she had demonstrated in handling a touchy matter.

"That is the way one must be," she answered in pleasantly accented Liberian English, adding with a warm and utterly feminine smile. First you must be soft and let it seem that they are having their own way. Then you come down hard on them. In this way, Angie Elizabeth Brooks, an astute, plain-talking lady lawyer from Africa's oldest republic, summarized the double-edged diplomatic style that enabled her to become president of the General Assembly for the 24th session of the United Nations. She stood as only the second woman to achieve such an honor, the first having been Madame Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit of India in 1953, while Ghana's dashing Alex Quaison-Sackey had been the first black African and merely the second from that continent to hold the number one post. But as black, African and a woman, "our Miss Brooks" (as she is known on the reception heavy UN circuit) has truly emerged as a trailblazer.

Many Changes Proposed in Constitution

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — If the proposed new state constitution is approved, a governor would not have to call a special legislative session every other year to get an annual look at the legislators.
Annual legislative sessions are authorized in the proposed document, which will be submitted to the voters in the Nov. 3 general election. Currently, the legislature meets in regular session every two years.

That is one of the major changes in the Legislative Branch of state government proposed in the document. If the voters approve the work of the 7th Constitutional Convention, the document would replace the current 1874 Constitution.

The convention also provided for the restructure of the House and Senate on a 3-1 ratio.

Currently, there are 35 senators and 100 representatives.
The proposed document calls for 34 senators and 102 representatives to be elected from single-member districts. Proponents of the plan say the 3-1 relationship will make it convenient to group three House districts into one Senate district.

Fees Bring Up Lot Sale by Carswell

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The deed to a piece of property sold by Supreme Court nominee G. Harrold Carswell and his wife in 1966 contained a whites-only clause, the Palm Beach Post reported today.

The anti-Negro restriction was apparently first established by Carswell's brother-in-law Jack Simmons Jr., the Post said, when he obtained 38 acres fronting on Ochlocknee Bay in 1963. It said Carswell's wife Virginia acquired part of the land from her brother the same year.

"Ownership, occupancy and use shall be restricted to members of the Caucasian race," said a covenant written into the deed recorded at the Wakulla County courthouse in Crawfordville.

When the Carswells sold their lot for about $4,800 July 12, 1966, the deed specifically made the sale subject to the restrictive covenants in force three years earlier when Mrs. Carswell got the property, the Post said in a copyright story.

Domestic workers employed by and residing with Caucasian families were excepted from the restrictions, the Post said.

The Carswells no longer own any property in the bayfront complex, according to the current Wakulla County tax roll.
The Post story said purchasers of the Carswell lot were Mrs. Harriet N. Yon, wife of Tallahassee Postmaster Peyton Yon, and Mrs. Mable Middleton, a Tallahassee widow.

The Carswells and others reported involved in the deal were not immediately available for comment.

Carswell, a judge of the 5th Circuit Court of Appeal, has been in seclusion since the Senate Judiciary Committee last week recessed its hearings on his Supreme Court nomination.
Many of Carswell's Senate critics have attacked his civil rights rulings during the 12 years he has served on the federal bench, his brief membership in an all-white Tallahassee country club in 1955 and a white supremacy speech he made as a 28-year-old candidate for the Georgia Legislature in 1948.

Would Pick Students on Their Ability

CHICAGO (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew says colleges and universities should take in students and teachers on the basis of their ability and that the idea of quota systems of admissions is "some strange madness."

Agnew addressed a $100-a-plate Lincoln Day Republican fund-raising dinner Thursday night, and much of his speech was aimed at campus dissenters, both student and faculty. But his sharpest remarks were leveled at school admissions policies.

"For those who think that there should be ethnic quotas or race quotas, or social-economic class quotas in the admissions to colleges or universities," he said, "I would address this question: When next you are sick, do you wish to be attended by a physician who entered medical school to fill a quota or because his medical aptitude was high?"
"By some strange madness," he added, "we find the thought seriously entertained among men in responsible positions in the academy itself . . . that the untrained should help choose those to be trained and that membership, whether as students or teachers, in institutions of higher learning should be determined fundamentally by considerations other than aptitude."

The proposals are to be part of a special legislative session Rockefeller has said he will call for March 2 to try to raise $35 million in new tax revenue.
The session probably won't last more than two weeks, the governor said, adding that about half of the bills for the session are "essentially prepared."
Robert W. Faulkner, Rockefeller's executive aide, said all the revenue bills had been prepared.
Rockefeller has been considering excluding from the special session call a proposal to repeal the "fair trade liquor law," which establishes a percentage markup on liquor.

Earliest Insurance
History's earliest recorded insurance transaction occurred in 1883, when a number of London merchants insured the life of William Gymbins, a citizen and sailor, according to Encyclopedia Britannica.

Gaines N. Houston of Little Rock, an attorney for the cooperative, said Thursday that Lenox was the producer of the ad. Houston described Lenox as a "bitter, disgruntled former employee who had exhausted his legal recourse in an attempt to gain reinstatement."
Houston termed the ad "reckless and irresponsible," and called it a "scurrilous attack."
The ad, addressed to cooperative customers in Baxter, Ward, Sharp, Stone, Fulton and Marion counties, said NAECI customer-owner members were complaining of poor service, interruptions in their power supply, delays in getting service installed, and expenditures for "jaunts" by company officials to Hot Springs, Puerto Rico and the Bahamas.

First weather element to be measured was the amount of rainfall. The Greeks kept some rainfall records as far back as the fifth century B.C.

curred about two miles from My Gal where, according to the Army, Calley killed 102 civilians March 16, 1968.

Willingham is the highest ranking officer yet charged in the case. At the time he was a lieutenant commanding a platoon.

He is also the fifth U. S. serviceman formally accused in connection with the controversial operation.

In addition to Calley, two sergeants and a private who served with his company have been charged.

WR Believes Legislators Changed

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller said Thursday he believes some legislators are not as strongly opposed to tax increases as they were six months ago.
"I would say they are resistant, but willing to talk," Rockefeller told a news conference at the Capitol.

"The legislators are aware of the drastic, critical needs," the governor said.

He added that he was disappointed that "only a few" lawmakers had responded favorably to his tax proposals.

The proposals are to be part of a special legislative session Rockefeller has said he will call for March 2 to try to raise $35 million in new tax revenue.
The session probably won't last more than two weeks, the governor said, adding that about half of the bills for the session are "essentially prepared."

Draft to Call Men Up to Number 90

WASHINGTON (AP) — Stepping along at the rate of 30 numbers a month, the draft will probably call men holding lottery numbers up to 90 in March, an informed source says.
Although the March limit is still unofficial, the source said it has been virtually decided to make it number 90.

Since January, draft boards have been calling men for military service on the principle of lowest-number-first, according to the Dec. 1 lottery that gave each man a number from one to 366.

But many low-numbered men — originally counted on in Pentagon calculations — will not really become available until they lose deferments later this year.

If draft boards were required to meet rigid quotas before these men become available, they might have to take high-numbered men to fill the gap.

To avert that prospect, officials of the White House, Pentagon and Selective Service decided to set lottery-number limits that would let the boards climb the lottery list at a uniform rate. This would hold down the numbers until the deferred low-numbered men are available.

Some states have estimated they could not provide their share within the limit. If not, they would be expected to make up the difference later in the year when their draft pool is more complete.

For March, the draft call is 19,000 men.

Cooler and Showers for Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A cold front that was centered over Missouri this morning was expected to drift into Arkansas bringing with it cloudy skies and a possibility of showers by tonight, the Weather Bureau said.

The bureau said the cold front will probably change to a warm front and move back through the state sometime Saturday.

This will cause a chance of some light thundershowers in the western part of the state, the Weather Bureau said.
Highs around the state Thursday ranged from 34 at Memphis to 52 at El Dorado.

No rainfall was reported in the 24-hour period that ended at 7 a.m. today.

Co-op Workers Would Revamp Management

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Striking employees of North Arkansas Electric Cooperative Inc. have little hope of winning a better deal, but the latest step in their plan is ambitious — to revamp the management.

"Our aim is to either get a new board of directors, to get these directors to do right," said Roy Scribner of Salem, one of the 15 employees on strike since last August.

The most recent shot fired in the battle came Wednesday in an advertisement in the Arkansas Gazette. The ad described the cooperative's customer-owner members as unhappy with the service.

Scribner signed the advertisement, as did Jack Lenox of Mountain Home and Jim Bob Moss of Salem, who are among the strikers. Two other strikers have returned to jobs at the cooperative, Scribner said. The other 15 have been replaced by NAECI.

Gaines N. Houston of Little Rock, an attorney for the cooperative, said Thursday that Lenox was the producer of the ad. Houston described Lenox as a "bitter, disgruntled former employee who had exhausted his legal recourse in an attempt to gain reinstatement."

Houston termed the ad "reckless and irresponsible," and called it a "scurrilous attack."
The ad, addressed to cooperative customers in Baxter, Ward, Sharp, Stone, Fulton and Marion counties, said NAECI customer-owner members were complaining of poor service, interruptions in their power supply, delays in getting service installed, and expenditures for "jaunts" by company officials to Hot Springs, Puerto Rico and the Bahamas.

The play will be performed for school audiences Friday, February 20, with the final show at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium.

This year's production is different according to Mrs. Mildred McPherson, the director. It is "An Evening with O. Henry," three one-act plays based on his short stories.

THE LAST LEAF concerns a kindly old German who gives up his life painting his one masterpiece—the last leaf on an outdoor vine—in order to restore a dying young girl's will to live.

Its cast includes Lanette Arrington, Belinda Butler, Roy Rogers, Mary Ella Impson, Mark Stephens, and Clay Lehman.

THE COP AND THE ANTHEM is a funny tale of a bum on a park bench who has a lesson to impart of wisdom and courage if one has the patience to listen.

Players are Lee Davis, Gary Hollis, Artis Martin, Doug Rogers, Mark Stevens, David Rowe, Doug Byrd, Paula Burnett, Lisa Howell, Pam Huffman, Susan Turner, and Richard Lively.

A LICKPENNY LOVER is about two girls, salesclerks, selling gents' gloves. The play gives one insight into the love life of the girls and, of course, has the surprise ending for which O. Henry was noted.

Seeks Portrait of Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House Historical Association is waiting for an assist from Mrs. Aristotle Onassis in its effort to get a portrait of the late President John F. Kennedy for the presidential mansion.

The White House has a portrait of every president except Kennedy, says curator James R. Ketchum. He said the artist selected by Kennedy's widow never had seen Kennedy, studied photographs and interviewed members of the family but gave up after two years.

Ketchum said he hoped Mrs. Onassis would select another artist. He added that the White House also would like to have a portrait of the former first lady.

Television and Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — Some teachers in the nation's primary schools may wonder where some of their small charges picked up a new and wonderful Lincoln story. It seems it was Daniel Boone who brought together Nancy Hanks and Tom Lincoln who became the parents of our Civil War president.

Anyway that was Thursday's tale on NBC's "Daniel Boone." In this weekly adventure, Dan'l has been around a lot of our Founding Fathers. It would not be surprising if impressionable young viewers believe that Dan'l did more than George Washington to get this country started.

One of the devices frequently used in the Fess Parker series is to mix a little history into a lot of fiction to create a plot. On Thursday, Lincoln's birthday, Boone and his wife were busily playing matchmaker to a hot-headed cooper, Tom Lincoln—"onery as a sore-toed bear," said Dan'l—and pretty Nancy Hanks who loved books and talked mystically about having a son some day who would rise to high places.

When Tom and Nancy finally walked hand and hand into the sunset, Mrs. Boone reflected about how nice it would be if their future son grew up to be president.

The Boone series has done well, but it has run into tough going recently since CBS moved "Family Affair" and "The Jim Nabors Show" into competitive time spots. There now appears to be a strong possibility that it will be one of the shows NBC will retire at season's end.

The program was followed by a rip-roaring episode of "Ironside," notable for portions of the show shot on location in the Fiji Islands.

It was a story of kidnapping mixed with a theft of a gold shipment. Some of the exterior shots were taken near star Raymond Burr's Pacific Island retreat during his holiday there last spring. Then, rather neatly, they were mixed into the film shot at the studio.

Dean Martin's producer will go to London next month to plan for a dozen summer replacement programs—the singing, dancing Goldiggers for their third season, with European guest stars instead of a couple of regular kummer-blooming stars.

They feature along with gospel preaching, special singing and music by Mrs. Darlene Ballanger. The Ballangers are recording artists. The pastor, C.C. Truitt, invites the public to attend the services each evening at 7:00 with the exception of Saturdays.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED FOR IT, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper.

DOES TV TEACH BAD GRAMMAR?

Dear Helen: I find it frustrating, while trying to teach my children correct grammar, to have them constantly confronted with "Them ain't so bad," and "He don't do nuthin'" etc., in television cartoons.

I'm thankful we're rid of the cartoon monsters and violence, but now I wonder if we could have the "monstrous" grammar problem corrected?

Anyone care to join my lament?—M.M.B.

Dear M: Alas, poor television. No matter how it cleans up, claims down and dodges sideways to avoid criticism, the "boob tube" gets nuthin' but brickbats. Ain't it sad!—H.

Dear Helen: I know I put my foot not only in my mouth but down my throat, but I couldn't help popping off. Tell me if I was wrong.

Our daughter was asked to be a flower girl at the wedding of a not-too-close relative. I spend about $30 on her dress, shoes, gloves, etc. So okay. She was thrilled. Next we bought a nice wedding present, plus a shower gift.

So what happens? I'm informed by the bride's mother that "the wedding party" is arranging a catered shower, and my share will be $15.00! That's when

I expressed myself.

What happened to the good old days when friends met for cookies and coffee and chit-chat at an informal shower for the bride?—INDUTCH

Dear In: The good old days (emphasis on "good") also labeled a bride's mother "pushy" if she planned a shower for her daughter. You have a right to complain.—H.

Dear Helen: Suddenly I've developed two problems: I have to have closet and cupboard doors ajar. I can't stand it when they are completely closed. And I can't stand noise. Even the television drives me up the wall. My husband and I just separated. I wasn't this way before. Could our troubles have something to do with these oddities?—WORRIED

Dear Worried: I could guess the traumas of separation have a great deal to do with these sudden personality changes—but I'm only guessing. Consult your doctor while they're still new enough to conquer.—H.

Dear Helen: We moved here about a month ago. We went into debt to find a house, and then we borrowed to pay my maternity bills.

When I had a terribly difficult time having the baby, I guess it was just too much for my husband. He wasn't there when the hospital called to tell him I could come home.

I haven't seen him since. I know he loves me and our two babies. He was always so good to us. But something just must have snapped.

I don't want to go on welfare, but is there anything else for a mother of two young children who can't even find a baby sitter, much less a job?—DESERT

TB Tests for 15,000 U.S. Employees

By LAWRENCE L. KRUTSON Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Up to 15,000 Capitol Hill employees are expected to take tuberculosis tests in the wake of seven TB cases—two of them fatal—in the past six months.

"We don't want to raise any big red flag that this is an epidemic, because it's not," said a U.S. Public Health Service official after it was recently reported 144 of 500 persons given tuberculin skin tests had developed positive reactions.

"But it's a serious health problem," he said, "and preventive measures must be taken."

Medical authorities said a positive reaction to a skin test is an indicator a person has been in contact with tuberculous germs. But they said it is not proof positive he has the disease nor that he will ever contract it.

Congressional officials report there has been an undue panic because of the seven cases reported so far.

And they say House and Senate restaurants, which serve up to 12,000 persons daily, have lost no business because patrons fear infection.

Three of the cases, including both deaths, occurred among dining room and kitchen employees in the Senate restaurant.

Robert Moran, administrative assistant in the Capitol physician's office, said the testing which begins Monday for congressional employees has been expanded to include employees of the U.S. Supreme Court and the Library of Congress.

Brig. Gen. Walter Tkach, the White House physician, has said 546 civilian employees in the executive branch, many of whom visit Capitol Hill daily, will soon undergo skin tests and X-rays.

"One of the flabbergasting things about this whole situation is the two deaths," said Robert Alden, information officer for the National Center for Communicable Diseases. "That's because TB now is definitely considered curable by the medical profession and most cases respond well to modern treatment."

Until the current cases, there has been no requirement that the Capitol's 400 restaurant and cafeteria workers have periodic X-ray checks.

All that will be changed now, says Kermit Cowan, director of the House restaurant. "Everybody who goes on the roles will get skin tests and a verifying X-ray and, perhaps later, blood tests too."

Old Dispute Over 38 Cents Ends

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP) — Lee County and the heirs of Edith Simmons finally agreed on a $500 settlement in a property dispute that began in 1942.

The county had foreclosed on the Simmons property in 1947 claiming the woman hadn't paid her taxes in 1942. Mrs. Simmons said she bought the property that year and the bill apparently was sent to the former owner.

After her death, the Simmons heirs took over the battle and Wednesday agreed to settle the overdue bill for $500. The original bill was for 38 cents.

Saint Valentine's Day

Let's make Saint Valentine's Day unanimous.
Let's say "I love you" to at least one other person. It is a bright and good day in the Christian calendar. Every one of us is the better man because he dares to love. The heart and the cross belong together. You cannot truly love without honoring the principle of sacrifice.
Saint Valentine was a Christian martyr, beheaded by Claudius, emperor of Rome about the year 50 A.D. He loved enough to surrender his life in the service of God. The heart and the cross tell us that God is love, that he loved enough to give all for us. Will St. Valentine succeed in winning you and me to a genuine love for God that will not count the cost? The best text for St. Valentine's Day is John 3:16.

Africa's Religions
It is estimated that less than half the population of Africa has been affected by religions of foreign origin. Of this proportion, by far the most are Mohammedans. The Christian population is less than 4 per cent.

A- Pass. Your king of spades is surely a duplicated value. On the other hand, if you do bid six clubs, you won't be making much of an overbid.

TODAY'S QUESTION
West overcalls you one club with one diamond. Your partner bids one heart and East two diamonds. What do you do now?

HOPE STAR BOYS END Season By Losing

By RALPH ROUNTON

Person outside of the game and the game itself. The boys' season ended with a loss to the Kitties in the final game of the season. The boys' season was a success, but they lost to the Kitties in the final game. The boys' season was a success, but they lost to the Kitties in the final game.

Two long winners by Janet McCain and Hope's 4-0 record. The boys' season was a success, but they lost to the Kitties in the final game. The boys' season was a success, but they lost to the Kitties in the final game.

After that the Kitties Cat downed the boys' team. The boys' season was a success, but they lost to the Kitties in the final game. The boys' season was a success, but they lost to the Kitties in the final game.

Quickly DeQueen scored twice, and moved into a sequence of leading either five or seven points. The boys' season was a success, but they lost to the Kitties in the final game. The boys' season was a success, but they lost to the Kitties in the final game.

That third segment was a gem for Yenger, though. Guards Betty Hoyer, Judy Reysing, and Rebecca Stuart shut down the Leopards to six points, two coming on foul shots. The boys' season was a success, but they lost to the Kitties in the final game. The boys' season was a success, but they lost to the Kitties in the final game.

On the other end, the Hope forwards finally shook a free throw shooting slump of only 2 of 9 in the first half. McCain hit three straight, but at 3:30 of the third quarter DeQueen held on 29-23. The boys' season was a success, but they lost to the Kitties in the final game. The boys' season was a success, but they lost to the Kitties in the final game.

At that point the Kitties took over. McCain sacked from 20 feet and it was 29-25, but now Hope controlled the ball on both ends by coming up with those precious rebounds. The boys' season was a success, but they lost to the Kitties in the final game. The boys' season was a success, but they lost to the Kitties in the final game.

Then, just before the buzzer, Coleman burned the net from 30 feet away, and with the final six minutes left DeQueen only had it 30-27. The boys' season was a success, but they lost to the Kitties in the final game. The boys' season was a success, but they lost to the Kitties in the final game.

After the final tipoff McCain was fouled, Janet made the first of a one-and-one but missed the second, and Bonnie Willis sank from 10 feet out to send the Kitties ahead 30-29 at 5:30. The boys' season was a success, but they lost to the Kitties in the final game. The boys' season was a success, but they lost to the Kitties in the final game.

Coleman made a free throw to make that 31-29, before DeQueen broke out of that 1/2 minute scoreless spree to even it up. McCain hit and it was 33-31, but that was the final glory for Yenger. The boys' season was a success, but they lost to the Kitties in the final game. The boys' season was a success, but they lost to the Kitties in the final game.

Four fouls were called on Hope players in 42 seconds of play, and after the last one the Leopards had moved a-fare 37-33 two minutes before the end. The boys' season was a success, but they lost to the Kitties in the final game. The boys' season was a success, but they lost to the Kitties in the final game.

They traded two points and it was 39-35 with 1:33 showing, and the Kitties got the ball back again but lost two turnovers. Nobody likes to lose, but somebody has to. And after district tournament, there is nothing but next year to work for. Coach Jo Adcock did a fine job with the Kitties in her first year here, though, and there is promise for the future. The boys' season was a success, but they lost to the Kitties in the final game. The boys' season was a success, but they lost to the Kitties in the final game.

And it will be a shame if Hope isn't well represented on the 7-A All-District team, to be announced after the finals on Saturday night. The boys' season was a success, but they lost to the Kitties in the final game. The boys' season was a success, but they lost to the Kitties in the final game.

Talk Over for Frazier and Ellis

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

HOPE (AP)—The talk is over for Jimmy Ellis, the young World Boxing Association champion. He wants action. And action is what he'll get Monday night in Madison Square Garden when he meets Joe Frazier, champion of six states including New York, in a scheduled 15-round fight for the undisputed heavyweight title. "I'm tired of talking about the fight," Ellis said Thursday before completing his sparring. "It's here. He (Frazier) is talking. He better save his wind." Frazier, a puncher who applies pressure by constantly moving to his opponent, said earlier in the week: "I don't think Ellis can move away from me as fast as I can move in on him."

"We'll see about that Monday night," said Ellis. "How fast he can go, how fast he can come—we'll see. He talked about me running out. I'll be there Monday night."

If anything has annoyed Ellis, it has been Frazier's charges that Ellis, until now, has been ducking a fight with him. Ellis and his manager, Angelo Dundee, are leaving nothing to chance.

Ellis went to see the New York Knicks of the National Basketball Association play in the Garden Wednesday night. He went to relax, but there was another reason. "He went there to get the feel of the crowd," said Dundee. Since his last fight—a 15-round victory over Floyd Patterson Sept. 14, 1968—Ellis has done all of his boxing in the gym, three planned fights never coming off.

Dundee said they left the game before the start of an overtime period so they could avoid the crush of the crowd, something they would welcome Monday night. "No sir," said Dundee, "they can step all over us after he flattens the guy."

Frazier worked out first Thursday, boxing two rounds with Bill "Moleman" Williams. Then, Ellis took over for what Dundee said was his final four rounds of sparring—two each against Joe "Shotgun" Shelton and Stanford Harris.

These two are must wins for the Cats in the divisional standings, which determine the pairings of the 4-AA Championships March 3-7 at Southern State in Magnolia. And with a little Friday the 13th and Valentine's luck, two victories would put Hope on the road.

Indoor Games Expected to Bring Records By DAN BERGER Associated Press Sports Writer LOS ANGELES (AP)—Some say the race will be decided at the start, some say at the finish. But when it's over the man in front is likely to be the holder of a new world record.

The race in question is the 600-yard run which, for the purposes of tonight's Times Indoor Games, is being called a dash. There are only four entrants but all have hefty qualifications.

Martin McGrady is holder of the world indoor record for 600 yards, a fine time of 1:09.0. Lee Evans, the world record holder for 400 meters of 43.8, won a gold medal in that event at the 1968 Mexico City Olympic Games.

Ralph Doubell, Olympic gold medal winner from Australia at 800 meters in 1968, has never lost a race indoors. Len Van Holwegen, former UCLA star, won the Pacific-8 440 last year, has a best quarter mile of 48.5 and ran a relay leg of 44.7 last season as UCLA won the NCAA mile relay.

Next among the jockeys is Danny Whited with four firsts, a second and five thirds. Last year's top rider and this year's busiest is Larry Snyder, who has three victories, seven seconds and six thirds out of 32 mounts.

Snyder will be aboard Speed Line in the feature. In Thursday's feature, Pleasantly, piloted by Snyder, from wire to wire to win the $7,500 Little Rock Purse, covering the mile and 70 yards in 1:42 1-5 on a fast track.

Bobcats Have Full Weekend of Action

By RALPH ROUNTON

Arkadelphia tonight, Malvern tomorrow night. That is the road assignment for the Hope Bobcats this weekend, and the "B" Bruins will start the action in Arkadelphia this evening with a 6:30 p.m. tipoff. Back a month ago, Hope outdid the Badgers 69-68 in an overtime game here, and the Bobcats haven't won at Arkadelphia in half a decade.

Several Hope players missed practice because of illness this week, but everyone is fit for the weekend, according to Coach John Ross. "We've told them they can do it. Now we just have to get it done," said Ross earlier in the week. His coaching philosophy includes the absence of turnovers and errors, which have hurt Hope immeasurably in the past few weeks.

Still there is no stopping the Bobcats on the move, with that inside game working to perfection. Malvern will provide good opposition as Arkansas' 9th-ranked team, and the Leopards will be observing Homecoming for the Hope game.

These two are must wins for the Cats in the divisional standings, which determine the pairings of the 4-AA Championships March 3-7 at Southern State in Magnolia. And with a little Friday the 13th and Valentine's luck, two victories would put Hope on the road.

French Take a Second Gold Medal VAL GARDENA, Italy (AP)—France's Ingrid Lafforgue gave France a second gold medal today by scoring two perfect first places in the two heats of the women's special slalom of the World Alpine Skiing Championships.

The 21-year-old from Luchon in the French Pyrenees was clocked in 40.07 and 51.37 seconds in the heats for a total of 100.44. Barbara Cochran of Richmond, Va., gave the United States its first silver medal of the games, by finishing fifth in the first run and second in the second. She was clocked in 50.45 and 51.70 for a total of 102.15 seconds.

France's Michele Jacot made it a French-dominated final by taking third in 50.37 and 51.83 for a total of 102.20. The tough course created an avalanche of victims, with 17 of the 55 competitors disqualified in the first run, and top favorites like Austria's Anne Marie Proell and France's Annie Famosse dropping out in the second.

Austria's Gertrud Gabl, defending World Cup champion, placed fourth with 49.88 and 52.38 for a total of 102.26. Judy Nagel of Enumelaw, Wash., made it a generally good American showing by taking fifth for a total of 102.93, while Marilyn Cochran, Barbara's sister, was sixth in 103.34.

Girls Lose, B Boys Win Here Thurs.

Last night in Jones Field House the Hope Ladycats lost a squeaker to Nashville 52-47, lowering their record to 6 wins against 14 losses. The Ladycats had continued trouble through the game on bad passes and fouls but they did play a good game. Betty Rodden hit a basket with 8:26 left to give Hope a 2-0 lead, but three quick points by Nashville gave them the lead. Dee Singleton traded free throws with Nashville to knot the score at 4 all with 5:24 left in the quarter. Hope then stalled for three and a half minutes while Nashville scored 8 quick points to take a 12-4 lead with 2:02. The Ladycats then caught fire and the scoring machine started kicking in the points.

Singleton hit three free shots and Louise Kramer hit a basket, to trail 14-9. A basket by Singleton with 0:06 left in the quarter, narrowed the gap to three. Hope outscored the opponent by four points in the second segment to take a 25-24 lead at the half. Singleton left four points to give the Ladycats a 15-4 lead.

The rest of the first half points were scored by Singleton, Rodden, and East while giving Nashville ten. Beginning the second half, Singleton traded two baskets with the Scrapperettes for a 29-28 Hope lead. Nashville got it back to a 30-all tie with 3:24 left, and with 3:14 to go, the Scrapperettes went ahead for good.

East and Singleton hit a basket each but Hope trailed, 41-34, with one quarter remaining. Although giving a gallant effort the Ladycats could only get back to within two points, Mary Beth Millican hit 6 points, Singleton 4, and Rodden 3.

The starting defense of Sharon East, Cindy Hollis, and Renee Quillin, along with Sharon Brown, and Jennifer Rhodes, played a fine game and deserve credit for their effort. Singleton led the scorers with 26 points, Rodden had 8, Millican 6, East 5 and Kramer 2.

In the second game the Hope B-Bruins did it again. This time the Scrapperettes were the victims of a 57-42 defeat. Hope trailed early, but midway through the first quarter took the lead that they never gave up. Only Lynn Norton scored a free throw for Hope early, but a basket by Norton and Steve Harris gave the Bruins a 5-4 lead. The lead changed hands until Charles Rateliff and Harris scored baskets to take a 11-9 lead that held up the rest of the way.

The quarter ended with the Bruins in front, 12-11. Norton, Harris, and Tommy Webb put Hope in front 17-11. Four by Rateliff, two by Norton, and Webb's one gave the Bruins a 24-17 halftime margin. Hope was a little cold from the floor in the third segment, though quick shots out the end mounted 13 points for the quarter.

The big Bruins capitalized on Scrapper mistakes in the last segment and almost everyone got in the action. Norton, White, Rateliff, and James Bradley hit quick shots and with 4:14 to go the Bruins had an easy 49-33 cushion. Glendon Martin; Bill Rowland, Tommy Frazier and Webb got the final points that sealed the victory.

The B-Bruins now have a fine record of 8 wins against 4 losses; and they play with the Senior Boys at Arkadelphia tonight.

Braddock Says Jimmy Ellis Will Win

By JAMES J. BRADDOCK

Former World Heavyweight Champion (Written for The Associated Press) NEW YORK (AP)—The more I think about it, the more I'm amazed by the fight between Joe Frazier and Jimmy Ellis in Madison Square Garden next Monday to clear up the heavyweight situation.

It's so much like my own fight for the title with Max Baer in the Long Island Bowl on June 13, 1935. At the end of 1933, I was just another Irishman working on the Hoboken docks taking a fight here and there to make a few bucks. As far as I was concerned, my career as a fighter was over. I never thought about titles or big money. Just making a living and that was tough in those days.

Then, in 1934, I got a break. The Garden put me in against Corn Griffin and I knocked him out in three. Then they gave me John Henry Lewis, who later became light heavyweight champion, and I beat him in 10. In March of 1935, they fed me to Art Lasky in a 15-rounder to provide a challenger for Baer and I won. I got my Baer. And I'm saying right here that Jimmy Ellis will get his Frazier.

Baer was the powerhouse, cocky, always popping off, and everybody thought unbeatable. Frazier is undefeated, strong and bullish, and like Baer, showing no respect for an opponent. Like Baer, he appears to be a little too sure of himself. Baer and Frazier were different in styles, of course, but if ever two fighters were made for each other, Baer was made for me, and Frazier is custom-tailored for Ellis.

Ellis will beat Frazier because he's the better, smarter, more mature fighter. He'll move in and out, keep Frazier off balance with a good left hand and always be ready with that "sneak" right of his that is a deadly punch. He uses it better than I have ever seen and it's on target.

Frazier is the perfect target for Ellis. He's easy to hit, particularly with right hands. He has only one way of fighting and that's to pressure in, punching all the time to the head and body. But Joe Frazier is not a knockout puncher and he'll find a different kind of enemy in Ellis. Ellis knows what he's doing every minute and he'll take charge right away.

Ellis is also a little hungrier than Frazier. He hasn't fought in more than a year but that won't bother him at 30. He hasn't had too many fights and he hasn't taken too much punishment. Ellis is as much a 5 to 1 underdog with Frazier as I was a 10 to 1 underdog with Baer. The prices are ridiculous.

Ellis can win this fight by a knockout or decision. He has the punch to knock anybody out and he can box better than anyone in the heavyweight division today. He's a real pro. At times, Frazier fights like an amateur. Ellis fought his way to his part of the title by beating the best in a tournament. He deserves to be champion of all the world and I predict he not only can do it but will.

Drake Needed a Rally to Beat Bradley

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer The tie at the top of the Missouri Valley Conference is still intact today but Friday the 13th almost came a little early for Drake.

The Bulldogs needed a second half rally capped by Rick Wanamaker's basket with 25 seconds left to beat underdog Bradley 68-65 Thursday night. That kept Drake tied with Louisville for the MVC lead. The Cardinals had an easier time maintaining their share of first place with a 77-67 victory against over-matched Tulsa.

Meanwhile, streaking Cincinnati won its seventh straight game, walloping Wichita State 84-57 to stay two games back of the conference co-leaders. Elsewhere Army, the nation's leading defensive team, whipped Iowa 60-34. Georgetown battered New York University 94-72. Marquette took St. Louis 66-54. Niagara downed Fordham 77-68 with Calvin Murphy scoring 25 and Villanova defeated St. Peter's 108-91.

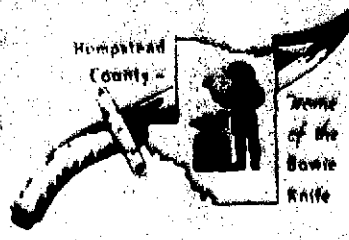

Also, William and Mary defeated The Citadel 79-74. Centenary whipped Miami, Fla. 107-86. Utah whipped Arizona 92-75. Brigham Young downed Arizona State 97-91. Colorado State topped New Mexico 64-57, and Houston belted Hardin-Simmons 109-91.

Drake, 17-5 for the season and 10-1 in the MVC and playing at home, was down by 10 points early in the second half against lightly regarded Bradley, which has won only three of 11 conference games this season. But Wanamaker and reserve Carl Salyers came off the Drake bench to bring the Bulldogs back. Bradley rallied again to tie the game with just over one half minute left before Wanamaker's bucket sent the fans home happy.

Wanamaker had 15 points and Salyers 12 while Al Williams led Drake with 19 and 15 rebounds. Rich Schultz led Bradley with 20. Larry Carter's 18 points led a balanced Louisville attack that had four players in double figures and carried the Cardinals past game Tulsa.

Tulsa, playing at home, got 22 points from Ron Carson and

Hope's Long-Range Water Plans Should Include Millwood Reservoir Pipe Line

When Millwood Dam and Reservoir was projected nearly a generation ago the original plan covered but two purposes—flood control and recreation.

But The Star intervened nearly 20 years ago and helped make it a three-way project. Your editor went to Washington at the newspaper's expense and appeared before a Senate Rivers and Harbors Committee hearing and asked that a one-foot depth of water be reserved for municipal, industrial and agricultural purposes.

It appeared to be a new idea, and your editor was examined at length by Sen. John L. McClellan, Sen. Ashurst and others on the panel. I had no official standing as a spokesman for Hope other than the newspaper's membership in Red River Valley Association.

But I outlined the continuing water problem of cities like Hope which depend upon deep wells, which in the face of the steadily increasing industrial demand for water must be a self-defeating system—and therefore I visualized a time in the future when we would have to look to a pipe line to Millwood Reservoir.

I cited the case of Nashville, Ark., which in a moment of extreme water shortage was barred from tapping the Narrows (Lake Greason) simply because no such authorization was included in the Narrows Dam project. I did not want to see this happen in the Millwood project, I told the senators.

Apparently what I said made sense. Millwood was changed to a three-purpose project, and the requested one-foot depth for municipal, industrial, and agricultural use was increased to two feet.

The foregoing led to the organization of the Southwest Arkansas Water District and the projection of pipelines for the future.

Back in the 1940s we were in the grip of a dry cycle, and fear was upon us. The water tables were dropping all over the nation; Oklahoma and West Texas were being publicized as "dust bowls"—and the situation in southwest Arkansas was critical. Cities like Hope, Magnolia, and El Dorado depended upon deep wells for municipal water, but the table of underground water fell so low that the wells of individual farmers went dry for the first time.

We now have Millwood Reservoir, and the Southwest Arkansas Water District—but still no pipe line serving Hope. The fact is that the dry era of the 1940s passed into a wet cycle, relieving the emergency.

But how much time do we really have? Weather experts figure a cycle lasts 30 to 40 years. This is 1970. From 1940 to 1970 is just 30 years. At best the critical days of the 1940s are only 10 years away from a repeat performance—and at worst it could happen this very year.

Under the present hand-to-mouth water supply system Hope has to drill additional wells every decade or so—and right now is letting contracts for the third round of new wells since I came here in 1929.

The reason is obvious. Last Summer we had a severe water shortage—in a wet cycle, mind you—but even the new wells offer little security when we re-enter the dry cycle that is coming up shortly.

Millwood Dam and Reservoir cost $4 million dollars, all of it federal money. Hope will be drilling new wells (and improving the city's distribution system) with a federal grant of $453,000, which the city matches to the extent of $302,000. A long-range view is that the money would have been better spent on a pipe line to Millwood.

But this is intended as a factual review—not a criticism of municipal government. There are factors which make construction of a Millwood pipe line almost prohibitive in 1970.

Construction costs and interest charges are at record heights, making it an unwise moment to sell bonds—although water-revenue bonds normally are rated a top investment.

Hope, I am informed, did make an effort to get Magnolia, Lewisville, and other towns along the route, to throw in with us on a joint pipe line venture for Millwood water. But the others backed away from the total cost—and the Hope government declined to shoulder the risk alone.

This morning I talked over the phone with M.E. Dismukes, manager of the Magnolia Municipal Water Co. Magnolia, I gather, recognizes the ultimate need of a pipe line—but found the delivery of Millwood pipe line water would require higher consumer rates.

This probably is true. But in the long run you are faced with the problem of finding an adequate water supply whatever the cost.

No system of municipal deep wells can possibly come up with enough water to meet the demand of a big industry.

Hope and Magnolia leaders know this—I'm merely reminding the people of each city that an adequate water supply can't be reduced to mere dollar terms.

Furthermore, every respectable city owes it to farmers and other individuals who depend on deep wells to develop surface water resources and leave the deep sands alone.

There'll be a pipe line to Millwood in the future—either voluntarily or involuntarily.

If the cities can't get together of their own accord there could well be a new law denying the cities the right to drill deep wells—and you can be sure this editor will be lobbying for such a law.

On the other hand the cities deserve and probably would get special federal help. Like river pollution, the necessity of developing surface water resources for cities has developed over several generations—and the generation that is called upon to meet the problem is entitled to aid from the central government.

Trusty Ban Would Cost $2 Million

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Correction Commissioner Robert Sarver said Thursday that it would cost about $2 million annually to replace the state prisons' trusty guards with free-world guards.

He also said he believed the legislature is ready to face problems of the prisons when it meets in a special session Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller has said he will call for about March 2.

Sarver appeared on the taping of Challenge '70, sponsored by the Little Rock Jaycees for showing at noon Sunday on KARK-TV.

While Sarver looked for legislators to "face prison problems," Rockefeller has no indicated that the trusty guard system will be among the items he will present to the session.

In a memorandum distributed to legislators, Rockefeller did not include any item for funds to pay for a guard system in place of trustys.

Sarver said he favored eliminating the system, but added that even with "a big bag full of money" years could go by before a sufficient number of free-world people would take the jobs.

Cummins Prison Farm has about 300 trustys. A trusty is a convict given status and responsibility similar to that of nonconvict employees. Some trustys carry weapons and serve as guards.

A series of complaints by inmates led to hearings last month on the trusty system. U. S. District Court Judge J. Smith Hanley has taken the case under advisement. He has been asked to declare the use of convicts as guards to be unconstitutional.

Sarver said improved rehabilitation of inmates would be possible through the use of professional staff members trained to change attitudes and behavior patterns.

Increasing Violence in Mid-East Worries U.S., Discounts General War

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. policy makers are deeply worried about the increasing Israeli-Arab violence, but sharply discount the chance of a general Middle East war in the months ahead.

The most serious danger in the situation, as it is assessed here, is the pattern of attack and counterattack will continue to grow, more advanced arms gradually will be introduced by outside powers, and eventually — unless the process can be arrested — there will be real peril of drifting into a full-scale war.

But at present, U.S. officials believe Israel has successfully frustrated, at least for the time being, the war of attrition Egypt has been waging for about a year and is in a relatively strong position.

Egypt, in the U.S. view, has suffered a series of reverses in recent months and has neither the will nor the resources to launch full-scale operations against Israel.

The United States Thursday condemned an Israeli attack on a steel mill near Cairo. Egypt claimed at least 68 persons were killed in the raid and 98 were wounded.

Undersecretary of State Elliot Richardson presented the U.S. protest to Israeli ambassador Yitzhak Rabin by telephone.

The Thursday attack was the 10th Israeli strike in the Cairo area since Jan. 7.

Officials said while the United States is worried about creeping escalation and seriously concerned over the possibility of mounting civilian casualties, its diplomatic pressure on both the Israeli and Egyptian governments is directed toward a cease-fire.

Israeli spokesmen have said they would accept a cease-fire if Egypt would abide by it. Arab leaders, however, recently stressed their determination to go on with the conflict until the lands occupied by Israel in the 1967 war, chiefly Egyptian territory in the Sinai Peninsula, have been cleared.

Egypt declared in March 1969 it would no longer be bound by the United Nations-arranged cease-fire when the Israelis fortified positions on the east bank of the Suez Canal. It was then that Arabs began to talk of waging a war of attrition.

By Israeli count, the Egyptians have lost 68 planes in combat since the 1967 war, contrasted with 10 Israeli aircraft.

Thousands of Egyptians, carrying large banners and denouncing what they called U.S.-Israeli collaboration, assembled on the streets of Cairo today.

Laird Warns Enemy of Violations

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird issued a cautious warning today to North Vietnam not to violate the understanding which resulted in the Nov. 11, 1968, bombing halt.

At an airport news conference after a three-day inspection trip to the war zone, Laird was asked if the U.S. policy of striking back at enemy forces that attack from positions outside Vietnam included the right to make air strikes on aircraft positions which could fire on U.S. reconnaissance planes.

The secretary replied, "If the North Vietnamese violate the supposed understanding of more than a year ago, the consequences of their violation as it relates to the theory of protective reaction is something that they should bear in mind."

Laird refused to be more specific, and later an aide explained that U.S. officials never disclose so-called "rules of engagement" outlining military action to be taken in given circumstances.

The U.S. version of the "understanding" with North Vietnam is that Washington made clear American reconnaissance flights over the North would continue to check on possible enemy buildups. Hanoi denies there was any understanding and says American reconnaissance planes are violators of its air space and liable to be shot down.

The question was prompted by recent American air attacks on antiaircraft positions inside North Vietnam which the U.S. Command said fired on American reconnaissance planes and their armed escorts.

Laird said earlier that "solid progress" in Vietnamization of the war will permit more American troop withdrawals despite a continuing enemy threat and lack of progress in the Paris peace talks. He warned, however, that "the road to Vietnamization will not be free of hard knocks and some disappointments."

Laird termed his tour to see how President Nixon's Vietnamization program is working "profitable." He said he had "informative and meaningful" talks with President Nguyen Van Thieu and other top South Vietnamese and U.S. officials.

But he declined to forecast when more U.S. forces might be pulled out of Vietnam. He said periodic announcements of troop withdrawals would be made by Nixon. Laird said the fact that 110,000 Americans can be withdrawn by April 15 proves that Vietnamization is working.

He said the United States and South Vietnam continue to hope for a breakthrough in the Paris peace talks.

Destructive Dogs Roaming City of Hope

City Officials said today that they were receiving an increasing number of complaints about large dogs running in packs in certain parts of Hope.

James H. Pilkinton, City Attorney, speaking for the Police Department, said that almost every day several reports are received of two or more large dogs, usually German Shepherds running together and destroying property or killing small pets.

He stated that many citizens are apprehensive that these dogs may end up attacking a child or other person.

The officials declined to speculate on what the authorities could do about the matter under the law. The City Attorney said that the matter was primarily one for the owners to handle by restraining their animals, if necessary, to prevent them from running in packs and from damaging the property or lives of other persons.

He said that the owners of the dogs in question would probably be liable in the Civil Courts for any damage done. He pointed out, however, that the officials did not want a child or person hurt, and hope to have the co-operation of the owners in removing that possibility.

Says Army Has Right to Try Accused Lt.

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — A military judge has ruled that the Army has jurisdiction to try Lt. William L. Calley Jr. on charges of murdering 102 Vietnamese civilians at My Lai March 16, 1968.

Soon after Calley's trial was set Thursday for May 18, Pentagon sources disclosed that another officer, Capt. Thomas K. Willingham, has been charged with unpremeditated murder of 20 persons during the same operation nearly two years ago.

At a pretrial hearing for Calley here Thursday, Lt. Col. Reid W. Kennedy rejected a defense motion to dismiss the charge and end the case on the grounds that the Army had illegally retained Calley beyond his scheduled Sept. 6 discharge date and had no right to try him.

Still pending were motions for: —Disclosure of documents and messages that might have passed between Saigon and Washington officials concerning the Calley case.

—Dismissal of the charges on grounds that "command influence" from President Nixon down the chain of command was brought to bear on the decision to charge and try Calley.

The Supreme Court has reversed convictions when in other military cases command influence was proved.

George W. Latimer, Calley's chief civilian lawyer, wants to subpoena Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird, Secretary of the Army Stanley R. Resor and the Army's chief of staff, Gen. William C. Westmoreland, to testify on the command influence issue.

Calley's bond was set at $2,500 with arraignment scheduled for Feb. 23 in Circuit Court, Arnold said.

A Democratic Reform Movement Is Drawing a Bead on McCormack

BY JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The reform movement now churning among House Democrats is drawing a bead on Speaker John W. McCormack, but he is more a gaunt, gray symbol than the reformers' real target.

The actual target is the feudal-like system under which the House operates, with committee chairmen wielding the power and McCormack, at best, just one among the barons.

That's what makes the reformers' task so difficult. They are trying to topple not just a man but a massive structure rooted in custom and cemented by self-interest.

With 21 standing committees and well over 100 subcommittees in the House, chairmen represent 45 per cent of the Democratic membership. Add a member waiting next in line to slip into each top spot, and an overwhelming majority has a strong incentive for preserving the seniority system.

Nevertheless an attack is being prepared. It will begin next Wednesday when a Democratic party caucus will be asked to appoint a committee to study the organization of the House and recommend improvements. The improvement backers have in mind is abolition of the seniority system.

Although such a change has long been the goal of the younger and more liberal Democrats, the decision to launch the effort next week was made after Calley's trial.

Jury to Get Chicago Case on Weekend

CHICAGO (AP) — Sometime this weekend the jury will be locked up to reflect on five months of testimony, legal rulings and
